The Superior Difference

There are many cable railing solutions on the market, so what sets Superior aluminum apart from the “other guys?”

Superior Aluminum

The “other guys”

The unmatched durability and strength of both Superior cable railing styles eliminates the need for the support picket commonly found in most cable railing systems.

Superior Aluminum

The “other guys”

Thanks to innovative post and cable technology, the large, unsightly turnbuckles that are common on other cable systems are not necessary on Superior’s cable railing systems.
